

A comprehensive anthology of Heideggers early essays. This indispensable volume adds for the first time a comprehensive anthology of the most important of Martin Heideggers recently discovered early essays. Translated by preeminent Heidegger scholars, these supplements to Heideggers published corpus are drawn from his long series of early experimental, constantly supplemental attempts at rethinking philosophy. Written during 1910–1925, they precede Being and Time and point beyond to Heideggers later writings, when his famous “turn” took, in part, the form of a “return” to his earliest writings. Included are discussions of Nietzschean modernism, the minds intentional relation to being and the problem of the external world, the concept of time in the human and natural sciences, the medieval theory of the categories of being, Jaspers Kierkegaardian philosophy of existence and its relation to Husserls phenomenology, being and factual life in Aristotle, the being of man and God in Luthers primal Christianity, and the relevance of Diltheys philosophy of history for a new conception of ontology. A detailed chronological overview of Heideggers early education, teaching, research, and publications is also included.
